

RETAINER AGREEMENT

ANDREW M. GAYLE, of Agana, Guam, is hereby retained by the FIRST CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION of the territory of Guam for and upon the following duties, terms and conditions:

1. He shall perform during the term of this agreement the following duties:
 - (a) Act as counsel to the Convention throughout its existence in accordance with the rules and resolutions of the Convention, and in accordance with the provisions of Public Law 9-244, Ninth Guam Legislature.
 - (b) Act as Parliamentarian during all regular sessions of the Convention in accordance with Robert's Rules of Order, attending for the purposes thereof all said sessions.
 - (c) Prepare all memorials, petitions and resolutions during the term hereof requested by the Convention or any member thereof.
 - (d) Attend all meetings of the executive committee of the Convention, and render to the members of said committee legal advice as to said committee's powers and functions.
 - (e) Attend meetings of the other committees of the Convention when requested by the committee chairman, rendering such advice and assistance to said committee or any member thereof as may be requested.
 - (f) Serve as committee counsel at all public hearings conducted by any committee of the Convention, and prepare reports of the results of such hearings.
 - (g) Prepare the reports containing the official recommendations and findings of the Convention.
 - (h) Undertake such legal research as shall be requested by the Convention or any of its members.
 - (i) Render legal advice to the Convention or any member thereof with respect to their duties and powers.
2. The Convention shall provide necessary supplies and clerical assistance during the period covered by this agreement.

3. The Convention counsel shall maintain inviolate the confidences of each member of the Convention, and shall preserve the secrets of such member, until each request is satisfied and then publish the same only when such member authorizes such publication.

4. For the services rendered and to be rendered herein, the Convention shall pay to said counsel the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00), in installments as follows:

September 15, 1969	$1,000.00
