

Self-determination forum at UOG

The University of Guam's Public Administration and Legal Studies, or PALS, Club will host a public forum titled "Self-Determination, Guam's Future, Your Choice" at 1 p.m. May 3 in the College of Arts and Sciences Lecture Hall. Members of the Statehood, Free Association, and Independence Task Forces will discuss their positions. Also invited to speak are Joe Borja of the Chamorro Registry and Gerald Taitano of the Guam Election Commission. Ron McNinch of the UOG College of Business and Public Administration will discuss the Organic Act. The public is welcome to this free forum.

tion signing